Trends in Clinical and Medical Sciences

PSR Press

Note

Retraction of: "Perception of undergraduate medical students in online OG learning during the COVID-19 pandemic—A cross-sectional study at a tertiary care medical college"

Editorial Office

Trends in Clinical and Medical Sciences, Ptolemy Scientific Research Press (PSR Press), Journal website: https://pisrt.org/psr-press/journals/tcms/

Published: 11 August 2026.

Retracted article: Trends in Clinical and Medical Sciences. 2023; Special Issue: Recent Developments of Medical and Surgical Research: 321–328. Published 29 April 2023. https://doi.org/10.30538/psrp-tmcs2023.si-rdmsr044.

The Editors of Trends in Clinical and Medical Sciences have retracted the article identified above at the request of the authors.

Following publication, the authors identified a technical issue in the article that affects the reliability of the published work. After considering the nature and implications of this issue, the authors requested that the article be retracted. The journal reviewed the request and determined that retraction was the appropriate course of action in order to maintain the accuracy and integrity of the scholarly record.

The online version of the article will remain available for the purposes of transparency and preservation of the publication record; however, it will be clearly identified and permanently marked as retracted.

The authors regret the circumstances that necessitated this retraction and apologize for any inconvenience or concern caused to readers, researchers, and the wider scientific community.

© 2026 by the authors; licensee PSRP, Lahore, Pakistan. This article is an open access article distributed under the terms and conditions of the Creative Commons Attribution (CC-BY) license (http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/).